ANZ 2013 half year result Excel template

ANZ will announce its 2013 Half Year Result on Tuesday 30 April 2013.

To assist market participants in analysing the Group's financial performance, ANZ provides an Excel version of key tables with the Results Announcement. This will be available on ANZ's website in the Shareholder Centre (anz.com/results) together with other materials related to the half year result shortly after the materials are lodged with the ASX.

Traditionally, ANZ also provides a version of this template ahead of the results containing prior period numbers; this is now available in the Shareholder Centre (First Half 2013 Announcement section) along with cash profit reconciliation material for 2012 and 2011 made available in February and March (in the Analyst Toolkit section).
